Acute or Chronic — Which?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic Foley's Kidney Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynolds, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says, "It has been of inestimable value to me."

To keep your health sound; to avoid the ills of advancing years; to conserve your physical forces for a ripe and healthful old age, guard your kidneys by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. F. B. Johnson & Co.

How to Cure Eczema, Pimples, And Dandruff.

We desire to say that when we took the agency for ZEMO, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for Eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet, we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as ZEMO has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like ZEMO too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use.

ZEMO effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase, we give a booklet on skin disease explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp diseases by this clean, scientific remedy. F. E. Wolcott, Druggist.

CRIPPEN TELLS DEW THE STORY

How He Came to Kill His Wife.

THE OUTCOME OF A QUARREL

According to Current Belief in Quebec, Dr. Crippen Has Confessed to Inspector Dew That After Ceaseless Bickering He Strangled Belle Elmore to Make Her Keep Quiet; That She Fainted and Died.

Quebec, Aug. 4.—From the jubilant attitude of Inspector Dew and Chief McCarthy, from the fact that Dew has said his troubles are now over for a while and he has gone on a pleasure jaunt to Niagara Falls; from the fact that he has addressed a long cablegram to Scotland Yard, and above all, from the fact that one official in the attorney general's office has said so, there appears to be no doubt that Crippen has confessed to the crime of murdering his wife, Belle Elmore, in London.

After her arrest, broken and nervous, the Leneve woman clung to Captain Kendall as her only solace. He had been kind to her on the voyage and she trusted him. While sitting in her cabin, once more attired in woman's clothing, she confided to the captain what she knew of the case. He turned his information over to Inspector Dew in confidence. Dew instructed one of the daughters of Mrs. Phillips, the matron of the jail, to approach Miss Leneve and, without making any promises of help or freedom, to attempt to gain further information. She was successful and the information she gleaned was used by Dew to play on Crippen's weary mind. He finally, after hours of interviewing and questioning, broke down.

He claims he did not intend to commit murder. He and his wife had been fighting and bickering. He strangled her to make her keep quiet. She fainted and later died. Fearing the consequences, he made all haste to cover up his deed. This story is vouched for by a government official. Neither Dew nor any of the Canadian officers will affirm or deny it, but there is a feeling of relief in police circles.

Crippen is more closely guarded than ever, and everything points to the fact that he has confessed.

Crippen Has London Lawyer.

London, Aug. 4.—Friends of Dr. Hawley Crippen in London have come to his assistance. They asked Arthur Newton, who is a well-known London criminal lawyer, to take up the defense of Crippen. Mr. Newton cabled the doctor asking for confirmation of his selection, and Crippen replied accepting his services.

CHILE'S PRESIDENT WARMLY WELCOMED

Salute of Twenty-One Guns and Other Attentions.

New York, Aug. 4.—When President Pedro Montt of Chile arrived here on the steamship Tagus, which he boarded at Colon, the guns at Fort Wadsworth gave the presidential salute of twenty-one guns. The army quartermaster's boat took on board a committee designated by President Taft to receive the Chilean president. There were in the reception committee Chandler Hale, third assistant secretary of state; Major General Carter, U. S. A., assistant chief of staff, and Captain H. P. M. Huse, U. S. N., commandant of the Philadelphia navy yard. The army and navy officers are assigned as aides to President Montt during his stay in this country. The official reception committee was joined by Alberto Yoachim, charge d'affaires du Chile, and John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics at Washington. At the quarantine station the quartermaster's boat drew alongside of the Tagus and took on board President Montt, his wife, his sister-in-law, widow of a brother of the president; Colonel Bari, the president's military aide; Dr. Munich, the president's private physician; Herman Echeverria, the president's private secretary, and a private chaplain.

Nearly twenty years ago Pedro Montt was Chilean minister in Washington, and during that time he had some acquaintance with New York. But what he could explain about the skyscrapers and the bridges soon ceased to satisfy the curiosity of his young wife and his sister-in-law, and General Carter and Captain Huse were called upon to answer a thousand questions the ladies of the party asked with seemingly lively interest.

President Montt's plans, he said, during his short stay here, were to rest here today; Friday noon go to Boston, remain there until Saturday noon, and then proceed to Beverly by a government boat—the Mayflower—which President Taft had so kindly placed at his service. He would lunch with the president at Beverly and return to New York Saturday night. Sunday he would rest, and on Monday probably accept President Taft's invitation to visit West Point. He would then go to Washington. The president and his party will sail next Tuesday and will soon be at Bad Nauheim and take the cure there. He wants the rest more than the waters, he said.

"I am tired," he said. "I want to rest."

BRYAN'S ORATORY NOT FOR INDIANA

Taggart Hears Commoner is "Down and Out," So Holds Up Invitation.

BATTLE HAS ONLY BEGUN

Premature Jollification Among Anti-Bryan Democrats Deeply Resented.

(Special Correspondence.)

The combined bosses and interests overwhelmed W. J. Bryan in Nebraska after fighting for more than a dozen years to down the Peerless Leader. The anti-Bryan victory of the special interests in Nebraska makes it more than ever certain that the same special interests in Indiana will not invite Mr. Bryan to make Democratic campaign speeches this year.

Mr. Bryan will not be heard on the Democratic hustings in Indiana.

It is significant that Indiana organization Democrats withheld their invitation from Mr. Bryan until after the finish of the fight which ended in his temporary overthrow a few days ago. The Bryan invitation still is being withheld.

That is one reason why it can be declared that Bryan's voice will not be raised for the Indiana Democracy, as now controlled. Another reason is that Mr. Bryan will not accept a Taggart invitation under any conditions. If he comes to Indiana, it must be by grace of Taggart, and censored by Taggart. So, manifestly, it is impossible for Mr. Bryan to come.

The Taggart Democrats in Indiana are jubilant over the outcome of the Nebraska Democratic convention. "Bryan is down and out," said one of them yesterday. "He can't come back. He's a dead duck, politically. We don't need him in Indiana, and we don't want him."

But Bryan Democrats point to Mr. Bryan's former showing of ability to "come back" after he had been put "down and out" by the Parker crowd. Mr. Bryan, for himself, says the fight has only begun, and that he will keep up the battle to the end.

PLUNDER EXPERT.

Faulkner Renominated by Democrats To Pass Out House Jobs.

Democrats have renominated J. B. Faulkner, of Michigan City, for state representative. Faulkner says he will go after the speakership of the Indiana house, if he is re-elected. This same Faulkner was one of the Democratic plunder committee of the last house, and as such was in part responsible for the fact that the Democratic economy shouters practically doubled the number of employees shown by the previous Republican houses, and greatly increased the expenses on the legislature in other ways. It is to be said for Mr. Faulkner, however, that he was not guilty of foisting his household on the state, as did his fellow-plunderer, John Sweeney. Sweeney, by the way, is to be a Democratic nominee for state senator. He ought to be swatted.

Teddy's Politics.

Over in New York they are having a deuce of a time over politics. They do not know whether to call Teddy a Democrat, a regular Republican, or an insurgent Republican, because he talks to Democrats and Republicans alike. Somebody talked to him about it the other day, and told Teddy he ought to take sides. Teddy upended him and said, "I want you to make it clear that I am seeing both sides. I wish you would make that emphatic. My main interest is in the state and on national issues I want to see both regulars and insurgents, party men and independents, I want to see Democrats as well as Republicans."

Then that sucker who was asking questions said to Teddy, "You don't want to see the Democrats win, do you?"

Teddy replied, "Not if the Republicans do the right thing."

That's what I like about that fellow. He stands up for the right. If a Democrat stands up and fights for the right, Teddy is with him. If a Republican stands up and fights for the right, Teddy is with him. Is Teddy a Democrat or a Republican? I confess I do not know but I do know this, that he will never fear to do anything except to do wrong. He is going to stand up and do the right as God gives him to see the right. I wish you and I could be like him.—H. Gard in Pittsburg Sun.

Money in Indiana.

Ben Wallace, the circus man, says there is more money in Indiana than in any other state of this prosperous Union. His belief is so strong that he has booked his big circus for forty cities and towns in Indiana. Which indicates that he means what he says.

OPEN SEASON FOR EDITORS

Blackford County Prosecutor Says He Will Not Prosecute The Combatants.

NAMES ARE BEING CALLED

"Ink War" at Hartford City is Reaching Acute Stage and Blood May Fly Yet.

If "Constant Reader" and "Veritas" and "Old Soldier" and "One Who Was There" ever had an opportunity in their lives they have it now in Hartford City, Blackford county. An open season for newspaper men has been declared during which the chief industry of the hamlet will be licking the editors.

The prosecutor of Blackford county has announced that he will not under any circumstances proceed against any one editor, who in the discharge of his duties as a moulder of public opinion assails another editor and smites him hip and thigh.

The railroads will run excursions into Hartford City and those who have nourished a weakling grudge against an editor until it has grown to a stalwart grudge against all editors can journey there and do battle with impunity.

The "open season for editors" is the result of a strange situation existing among the papers of that city. The policy of each paper seems to be to give its readers an inside hunch on the true character of the editors of the rival papers. Thus the editor of the Journal has analyzed the editor of the News and finds he is a "pusillanimous pup, fit only to wallow in the slime of stygian darkness." To this pleasant example of mixed metaphor the editor of the News announces that unbiased investigation discloses The Journal editor to be "the stinking outcome of an emetic thrown into the hot throat of hell"—Why shouldn't the prosecutor put a premium upon editorial combat.

The ink war in Hartford City has made the postal inspectors bat their eyes and that the officials have not demanded expurgated editions for general circulation is a standing wonder among publishers who run newspapers in communities where profane and indecent language is not printed.

A Word of Thanks.

I wish to thank the Imperial Remedy Co., manufacturers of the Imperial Eczema Remedy, also Hargrove & Mullin, who are agents and recommended it to me, for what their remedy has done for me, as I am almost entirely cured.

I take this means, through the Republican, to offer my thanks that the good people may know of the benefit I have obtained and that other sufferers of eczema may learn of this wonderful remedy. 114eodt6

Eczema—A Germ Disease Can Now be Cured.

The Medical profession is all agreed that ECZEMA is a germ disease, but the thing that has baffled them is to find some remedy that will get to the ground and destroy them.

Zemo, the clean, external treatment has solved this difficulty by drawing the germs to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease. The whole method of treatment and cure by ZEMO is explained in an interesting book on the subject issued by the makers of ZEMO. It tells how to cure yourself at home of Eczema, Blackheads, Pimples, Dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp. Call at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store for Booklet and learn more about this clean, simple remedy that is now recognized the standard treatment for all diseases of the skin and scalp.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.
The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.
To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Mr. A. C. Kirkham and daughter, Miss Ruby were guests of Chester Hudson and family near Fountain City part of last week.

Misses Ruby and Muriel McDaniel attended a meeting of the Sewing Circle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Abernathy, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. James McDonald accompanied by her daughter Hazel and Miss Lena Brookbank and Fay and Fern Seull of south of Rushville came near meeting with a serious accident Thursday when their carriage collided with an auto driven by Frank Westcott of Indianapolis and Max Barrett of Knightstown. The collision occurred at the turn of the road just south of Ogden at the bridge over Buck creek. It was purely accidental and no blame is attached to either party. Only minor damage was done to the carriage and auto. Mrs. McDonald suffered from the nervous shock for some hours and it was due to the gentle horse that she was driving that no serious accident occurred. Messrs Westcott and Barret rendered efficient aid and saw that the carriage was repaired and the party taken to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lyons attended the funeral of W. B. Downey at Indianapolis Friday. The deceased was a cousin of Mrs. Lyons.

The Fort Wayne Sentinel calls attention to the increase in the price of ham in that city from twenty cents to thirty cents a pound. Undoubtedly this reduction is a vindication of the Sentinel's views on the tariff question, since the existing tariff law reduced the tariff on ham twenty per cent.

A Richmond, Indiana, mossback says that if this country were to adopt the economic policies of England, everybody in this country would be prosperous and happy, says the Marion Chronicle. The Dayton News a Democratic newspaper, says that one person in every three in England is in poverty, one out of every ten is on the verge of starvation and only one person in ten is in what we would call "easy circumstances,"—the circumstances in which we find nine out of ten families in Richmond, Indiana. British statesmanship, says the News, is alarmed at the growing pauperism which is overwhelming the country. There is as much justification for charging all this upon England's economic policies as for claiming that if we adopted them the people of this country would be better off than they are.

It is said that Samuel Gompers has expressed a desire to come into Indiana and speak in behalf of the Taggart ticket this year. This is unbelievable. Mr. Gompers stumped the State two years ago with the claim that the election of the Democratic ticket in this State would mean something in the interests of labor. There is not a labor leader in Indiana today who has any regard for his reputation as an honest man who does not agree that the interests of labor have been sacrificed by the politicians in power in behalf of the liquor machine. Mr. Gompers is known personally to be opposed to county local option, and if he comes into Indiana this year under the circumstances, it will be generally believed that he is more anxious to boost the booze machine than the welfare of the wage earner.

There are few lessons which our legislative bodies, and the people behind them, need more to have impressed upon them than the necessity of well-prepared legislation, or, put in the opposite way, the folly of hasty legislation, enacted in response to passing feeling. Pure politics, moral, and religious classes too often feel that the end is accomplished if only a law covering the subject can be placed on the statute books. Every state has a graveyard of such wrecks of legislation. Ill considered, without public opinion to back them, they often do more harm than good. The same thing applies to every other class of laws.

The most successful legislation in the State of Indiana has been effected in fields where disinterested and intelligent organizations worked for years to bring about a healthy public sentiment and an expert body of information. As witness the laws governing our penal institutions and those caring for defectives. When every law is so carefully considered beforehand that there will be no need for repealing it later the ideal situation will be reached.

The Wrong Idea.

There are some people, strange as it may seem, who imagine that one of the chief delights of a newspaper man is to have something sensational happen in order that he may gratify a morbid desire to parade the shortcomings of humanity in the columns of his paper. It is hardly necessary to reply to such accusations. Newspaper men are like other men. They are of the same flesh and blood and were reared amidst similar environments. Did you see an item in a newspaper encouraging people to indulge in lawless, immoral or corrupt practices? Did you ever see an article in a newspaper advising young boys or young girls to heed not the teachings of their parents and to follow their own sweet wills and desires? Did you ever see an article in a newspaper telling young men and women that their parents were old fogies behind the times out of date and too slow for the rising generation? No, indeed. On the other hand you have seen columns of good advice to the young and old in the newspapers, you have seen columns of warnings to fathers and mothers which fathers and mothers heeded not, and you have seen warning which adults have heeded not. Were newspaper men the monsters some distorted mind picture them to be, they certainly would be displaying the danger signal in their columns at all times. There would be no warnings published admonishing people to keep out of mischief. Rather would they encourage wrong doing in order to gratify the desire to expose the offenders. The truth is, the newspapers have not been severe enough in their exposures. There are in every community numerous individuals who carry on their liasons under cover of darkness who are free to condemn the papers for giving publicity to crimes against society and the laws of the State. These are the fellows who cry out against publicity, not that they are against it as public policy so much as they are against it through fear that their time may come sooner or later. So all this paper has to say concerning its policy on the publicity question is, if you don't want to get into the newspapers as a horrible example, be good.

INNOVATION TO BE ATTEMPTED

Six Days' Course of Lectures on Domestic Science to be Given at Chautauqua.

SAID TO BE VERY INSTRUCTIVE

Prof. Henrietta Willard Calvin of Purdue University Will be the Instructor.

An innovation in the program of the seventh annual Rush county chautauqua, a series of six lectures and demonstrations on as many days on domestic science to be given by Prof. Henrietta Willard Calvin of Purdue University, is expected to be one of the most popular features of this year's assembly. She will be here from Monday until Saturday, inclusive and will be on the program for a short time each afternoon.

Mrs. Calvin is Professor of Domestic Science at Purdue University. She has high standing and a national reputation as an instructor in this popular branch of science. The Committee considers it a matter of rare luck to have obtained a lecturer of such unusual standing as Mrs. Calvin. She will lecture each afternoon of the Chautauqua on cooking and other themes related to domestic science. She will have a stove and all necessary equipment for practical demonstrations. The talks will be both scientific and popular. Rush County has many fine cooks, but there is much that even the most successful but untrained persons can learn from these lectures.

All club women are earnestly urged to give their support and encouragement to this course of worthy lectures.

It is hoped that such instruction may soon be introduced in the public schools, as it has been used for many years in other places.

The Committee guarantees the usefulness of this course to those who attend, and only asks support.

The lectures are absolutely free to patrons, and Mrs. Calvin will gladly meet ladies during the week for discussion of topics related to her work. The following program will be followed by Mrs. Calvin:

MONDAY—3:30 P. M.
Lecture—Food: Its Relation to Health and Disease.

Demonstration—Fundamental Cooking Process.

TUESDAY—3:30 P. M.
Demonstration and Lecture—Cuts of Meat and the Cooking of Cheap Meat.

WEDNESDAY—3:30 P. M.

Demonstration and Lecture—Eggs and other Meat Substitutes.

THURSDAY—3:30 P. M.

Demonstration and Lecture—Yeasts and Fancy Breads.

FRIDAY—4:30 P. M.

Demonstration and Lecture—Frozen Foods and Other Desserts.

SATURDAY—3:30 P. M.

Demonstration and Lecture—Salads and Beverages.

Question Box.

In connection with the special lectures on domestic science the chautauqua committee has offered prizes in several contests, which will be awarded Monday, the second day of the assembly. The conditions surrounding the contests and the prizes are as follows:

1. $5.00 in gold will be given to the woman or girl of Rush county who submits the best white cake.

All cakes must be turned over to the secretary of the association by 3 p. m. on Monday, August 8. All cakes entered in this contest will be the property of the Association.

A season ticket to the chautauqua to the winners of second and third prizes, respectively, will be given.

2. Any woman or girl of Rush county who submits the best loaf of salt rising bread will be awarded a prize of $5.00 in gold. Second and third prizes each receive one season ticket to the chautauqua.

The rules governing the contest will be the same as those governing the cake contest.

The judge of the best cake and best loaf of bread will be Mrs. Henrietta Calvin, of Purdue University, who will lecture during the Chautauqua on Domestic Science. Competent judges for the first contest will be announced later.

C. G. Clark, proprietor of the Rush County Mills, offers to the winners of the first prize in the domestic science contest an additional $2.50 each, providing the winners shall have used "Purity" flour which is made at his mill.

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudeville management offers one of the best programs of the week tonight in the Imp film, "Jane and the Stranger," which is comedy and drama mixed with a remarkable effect. It is a story of intense interest which has its beginning in the east and its ending in the far west after an exciting man hunt, in which nobility of character as well as cowardice is exhibited. A young wife is deserted by her husband and she on her deathbed asks her brother to seek him out and wreak vengeance on him. This, the brother does after a long chase and incidentally, he has some exciting as well as novel experiences. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand Air Dome offers two comic subjects tonight. The first is entitled "A Darling Confusion." In this picture an innocent woman comes to grief by the hands of a jealous wife. The other comedy is entitled "The Other Johnson." Leon Maxey will sing "Silver Bell."

The Palace theater will have a complete change of program tonight.

FOUL TIP AT CHURCH.

Recently the baseball editor of a metropolitan paper was sent to report the sermon of a minister, as the religious editor was ill, says an exchange. This is the copy he turned in: "Quite a bunch were present last Sunday evening at the church owing to the presence of a new star and the box of boosters was anxious for a line on his work. Rev.—— is certainly there with the goods and performed to the satisfaction of all present. Owing to the fact that this was his first appearance on the local grounds, he was a little nervous the first inning. Encouraged by the coaches in the 'Amen,' corner he let himself loose and had the game well in hand from then on. His New Jerusalem slow ball is a peach, and when he turned loose on eternal punishment his speed was terrific. As this was his first workout it is too early to predict a future for him, but if he can keep up the gait he has started with it's him for the big league next season."

CHAPTER VIII.

The Trail of Maku.

When for the second time that night he bade the girl adieu and saw her enter the house of her friends, Orme went briskly to the electric car line.

He had not long to wait. A car came racing down the tracks and stopped at his corner. Swinging aboard at the rear platform, he glanced within. There were four passengers—a man and woman who, apparently, were returning from an evening party of some sort, since he was in evening dress and she wore an opera cloak; a spectacled man, with a black portfolio in his lap; a seedy fellow asleep in one corner, his head sagging down on his breast, his hands in his trousers pockets; and—was it possible? Orme began to think that Fate had indeed changed her face toward him, for the man who sat huddled midway of the car, staring straight before him with beady, expressionless eyes, was Maku.

Under the brim of his dingy straw hat a white bandage was drawn tight around his head—so tight that from its under edge the coarse black hair bristled out in a distinct fringe. The blow of the wrench, then, must have cut through the skin.

Well—that would mean one more scar on the face of the Japanese.

The other scar, how had Maku come by that? Perhaps in some battle with the Russians in Manchuria. He seemed to be little more than a boy, but then, one never could guess the age of a Japanese, and for that matter, Orme had more than once been told that the Japanese had begun to impress very young soldiers long before the battle of Mukden.

While making these observations, Orme had drawn his hat lower over his eyes. He hoped to escape recognition, for this opportunity to track Maku to his destination was not to be missed. He also placed himself in such a position on the platform that his own face was partly concealed by the cross-bars which protected the windows at the end of the car.

In his favor was the fact that Maku would not expect to see him. Doubtless the Japanese was more concerned with his aching head than with any suspicion of pursuit, though his somewhat indeterminate profile, as visible to Orme, gave no indication of any feeling at all. So Orme stood where he could watch without seeming to watch, and puzzled over the problem of following Maku from the car without attracting attention.

The refusal of the other Japanese to accept the girl's offer of money for the papers had given Orme a new idea of the importance of the quest. Maku and his friend must be Japanese government agents—just as Poritolo and Alcatraz were unquestionably acting for their government. This, at least, was the most probable explanation that entered Orme's mind. The syndicate, then—or concession, or whatever it was—must be of genuine international significance.

Though Orme continued to smother his curious questionings as to the meaning of the secret, he could not ignore his general surmises. To put his confidence in the girl—to act for her and for her alone—that was enough for him; but it added to his happiness to think that she might be leading him into an affair which was greater than any mere tangle of private interests. He knew, too, that, upon the mesh of private interests, public interests are usually woven.

The activity of a Russian syndicate in Korea had been the more or less direct cause of the Russo-Japanese war; the activity of rival American syndicates in Venezuela had been, but a few years before, productive of serious international complications. In the present instance, both South Americans and Japanese were interested. But Orme knew in his soul that there could be nothing unworthy in any in which the girl took part. would not only do nothing unworthy; she would understand the situation clearly enough to know whether the course which offered itself to her was worthy or not.

In events such as she had that night faced with him, any other girl Orme had ever met would have shown moments of weakness, impatience, or fear. But to her belonged a calm which came from a clear perception of the comparative unimportance of petty incident. She was strong, not as a man is strong, but in the way a woman should be strong.

The blood went to his cheeks as he remembered how tenderly he had spoken to her in the boat, and how plain he had made his desire for her. What should he call his feeling? Did love come to men as suddenly as this? She had not rebuked him—there was that much to be thankful for; and she must have known that his words were as involuntary as his action in touching her shoulder with his hand.

But how could she have rebuked him? She was, in a way, indebted to him. The thought troubled him. Had he unintentionally taken advantage of her gratitude by showing affection when she wished no more than comradeship? And had she gently said nothing, because he had done something for her? If her patience with him were thus to be explained, it must have been based upon her recognition of his unconsciousness.

Still, the more he pondered, the more clearly he saw that she was not a girl who, under the spell of friendly good will, would permit a false situation to exist. Her sincerity was too deep for such a glossing of fact. He dared assume, then, that her sympathy with him went even so far as to accept his attitude when it was a shade more than friendly.

More than friendly! Like a white light, the truth flashed upon him as he stood there on the rocking platform of the car. He and she would have to be more than friendly! He had never seen her until that day. He did not even know her name. But all his life belonged to her, and would belong to her forever. The miracle which had been worked upon him, might it not also have been worked upon her? He felt unworthy, and yet she might care—might already have begun to care—but he put the daring hope out of his mind, and looked again at Maku.

"And you know how serious it is,"

The Japanese had not moved. His face still wore its racial look of patient indifference; his hands were still crossed in his lap. He sat on the edge of the seat, in order that his feet might rest on the floor, for his legs were short; and with every lurch of the car, he swayed easily, adapting himself to the motion with an unconscious ease that betrayed supple muscles.

The car stopped at a corner and the man and woman got out, but Maku did not even seem to glance at them. Orme stepped back to make way for them on the platform, and as they descended and the conductor rang the bell, he looked out at the suburban landscape, with its well-lighted, macadamized streets, its vacant lots, and its occasional houses, which seemed to be of the better class, as nearly as he could judge in the uncertain rays of the arc lamps. He turned to the conductor, who met his glance with the look of one who thirsts to talk.

"People used to go to parties in carriages and automobiles," said the conductor, "but now they take the car when they've any distance to go. It's quicker and handier."

"I should think that would be so, here in the suburbs," said Orme.

"Oh, this ain't the suburbs. We crossed the city limits 20 minutes ago."

"You don't carry many passengers this time of night."

"That depends. Sometimes we have a crowd. Tonight there's hardly any one. Nobody else is likely to get on now."

ITCHING SCALP VANISHES

Under the Magical Influence of Parisian Sage.

As a rule, one application of Parisian Sage will stop the worst case of itching scalp and make the head feel cool and refreshed.

Used as directed, this wonderful hair tonic (which can now be obtained in every town and city in America) will stop falling hair and dandruff in two weeks, or money back. Ask F. B. Johnson & Co.

Careful people who desire an immaculately clean scalp and luxuriant hair should not hesitate to try this wonderful invigorator and hair beautifier, for nothing ever compounded can compare with it.

Get rid of dandruff; stop your hair from falling out; start to grow an abundance of luxuriant hair; make your hair look lustrous, radiant and attractive.

Parisian Sage will do it, and do it in an astonishingly short time. It is not sticky or greasy; it is delicately perfumed, and in summer will immediately drive away the disagreeable odor arising from perspiration.

Itching Skin Quickly Cooled.

Itching skin troubles some people as soon as the hot weather comes. There seems to be no preventive; but when the trouble does break out, it is a very simple matter to stop that itch, and to stop it instantly.

Just a few drops of gentle wintergreen lotion mixed with thymol and washed over the eruption will soothe and smooth the skin instantly, giving that cooled, refreshing sensation.

Try a 25 cent bottle of this lotion, D. D. D. Prescription. It will stop the itch, not in half an hour, not in ten minutes but five seconds. If you will call at our store, we will tell you more of this D. D. D. compound at Lytle's Drug Store.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

They Have A Definite Purpose.

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case. After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so-called cures. I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." F. B. Johnson & Co.

"Why is that?"
"Well, it's only a short way now to the connection with the elevated road. People who want to go the rest of the way by the elevated, would walk. And after we pass the elevated there's other car lines they're more likely to take, where the cars run frequenter."

"Do you go to the heart of the city?"
"No, we stop at the barns. Say, have you noticed that Jap in there?" The conductor nodded toward Maku.

"What about him?"
"He was put aboard by a cop. Looks as though somebody had slugged him."

"That's so," commented Orme. "His head is bandaged."

"Judging from the bandage, it must have been a nasty crack," continued the conductor. "But you wouldn't know he'd been hurt from his face. Say, you can't tell anything about those Johns from their looks, can you, now?"

"You certainly can't," replied Orme. The conductor glanced out. "There's the elevated," he said. "I'll have to go in and wake that drunk. He gets off here."

Orme watched the conductor go to the man who was sleeping in the corner and shake him. The man nodded his head vaguely, and settled back into slumber. Through the open door came the conductor's voice: "Wake up!—Shake—You get off here!—Shake—Wake up, there!"

But the man would not awaken. Maku was sitting but a few feet from the sleeping man. He had not appeared to notice what was going on, but now, just as the conductor seemed about to appeal to the motorman for help, the little Japanese slid along the seat and said to the conductor: "I wake him."

The conductor stared, and scratched his head. "If you can," he remarked, "It's more'n I can do."

Maku did not answer, but putting his hand behind the sleeping man's back, found some sensitive vertebra. With a yell, the man awoke and leaped to his feet. The conductor seized him by the arm and led him to the platform.

The car was already slowing down, but without waiting for it to stop, the fellow launched himself into the night, being preserved from falling by the god of alcohol, and stumbled away toward the sidewalk.

IOWA REPUBLICANS AT PARTING OF WAYS

State Convention Splits Wide Open On the Tariff.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 4.—The Iowa Republican state convention declared by a vote of 805 to 568 that it disapproves of the Payne tariff law as not being a fulfillment of the pledges of the national platform of two years ago, and gave cordial indorsement of the action of Senators Cummins and Dolliver and the insurgent members of the house in refusing to support the tariff, railway and other measures of the administration. So bitter was the controlling element that Taft's picture was denied a place among the other illustrious Republicans who adorned the walls of the Coliseum. To cap the climax of apparent resentment, Temporary Chairman Senator Cummins refused to mention the president by name, and when he sought to eulogize Republican leaders by beginning with Lincoln and ending with Roosevelt, 500 stalwarts refused to let the speech making continue till the name of Taft was included in the list. Pandemonium reigned for ten minutes. Senator Cummins stood pat upon this matter, however, and eventually was permitted to resume his speech.

There were majority and minority reports covering every stage of the day's proceedings. When the committee on permanent organization recommended Senator Dolliver for permanent chairman the stalwart faction balked and presented the name of J. C. Mabray of Albia. Dolliver won over Mabray by 285 votes! In taking the gavel Senator Dolliver reiterated the sentiment expressed by his colleagues and said that he had come to do his own thinking. He promised also to stump Iowa this fall in defense of his action in the last session of congress. The resolutions committee compromised in the matter of the administration of Governor B. F. Carroll. His indictment for criminal libel was ignored and his record indorsed in glowing terms. It was upon the tariff that the parting of the ways was reached.

been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the Stomach or the Heart or the Nerves fail, know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted.

But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, everywhere, to issue my "no help, no pay" medicines to the sick. Tell me also which book you need.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a shallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

MINERS FACING ANOTHER CRISIS

Their Union On Point of Disruption, 'Tis Said.

COMPELLED TO MAKE TERMS

President Lewis Is Reported to Have Found Himself in a Position Where He Is Compelled to Make Terms With Operators or See Thousands of Miners Return to Work Under Open Shop Conditions.

Indianapolis, Aug. 4.—The calling of a special international convention by President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America to meet in this city Aug. 11, is regarded by members of the organization as the first step in what may prove to be the disruption of the organization. It is said that Lewis finds himself in a position where he is compelled to make terms with the operators or witness the return to work of thousands of miners under open shop conditions, and if this should occur the example would be fatal to the organization and what it has taken years to build up would be torn to pieces within a month. According to persons here who know the conditions the treasury of the United Mine Workers has been so depleted in the last four months that the balance is lower than it has been in ten years. The returns from assessments, special and general, have been comparatively small since April 1, because so many men have been idle, and it is no secret in the organization that the miners have become restless and want to return to work on the conditions proposed by the operators.

The Illinois miners are said to be the only exceptions, and President Lewis does not believe they would hold out longer if they understood the real conditions in which the organization has been placed by the protracted strike. Lewis is said to fear the disruption of the organization if matters continue as they are, and but for this he would not take the risk of assembling them in convention at this time.

TOO REALISTIC

Muncie Boys Burn Companion at Stake in Imitation of Moving Pictures.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 4.—To a moving picture film in a local 5-cent theater depicting the burning of a white man at the stake by a party of Indians, is attributed the probably fatal injury of William Johnson, the six-year-old son of Lloyd Johnson. While the child with a company of children of his own age were playing Indian, it was decided to burn one of the number at the stake, as depicted in the picture film, which some of them had seen. The choice fell on the Johnson lad and he willingly consented. Newspapers were placed under him and twined about his body and then set on fire. It was the intention of his companions to put out the fire before the boy was harmed, and they rushed valiantly to his rescue when they saw him writhing in pain, but they were too late.

TROOPS ON GUARD

Governor Willson Takes a Hand in Supposed Night Rider Case.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 4.—Governor Willson has ordered a military patrol established in Lyon county, where Axtree Cooper was murdered by supposed night riders. The governor gave out a statement in which he comments unfavorably on conditions in Lyon county and states that he will go to any length to stop the reign of terror "which undoubtedly holds sway" there. The governor ordered Colonel Bassett to turn over to the civil authorities the five men he has under arrest charged with the Cooper murder, although Colonel Bassett has indicated to the governor that he believes the civil authorities are only anxious to secure the release of the accused men.

CUT WIFE'S THROAT

Gary Man Resented the Complaint of His Child Bride.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 4.—Ten days ago Marie Urso, a thirteen-year-old girl was taken to Chicago by her parents and was forced to marry Joachim Daviso. Yesterday she appealed to Mayor Knotts, saying she was forced to marry and she did not wish to live with her husband. An hour after Daviso met her on the street and cut her throat with a razor. She is dying at the hospital and Daviso is in jail.

To Cover the State.

Indianapolis, Aug. 4.—Edwin M. Lee, Republican state chairman, is arranging for the most comprehensive statewide organization that was ever attempted in Indiana. Next week fifteen committees will be sent into the congressional districts for conferences with the workers and there will be "get together meetings" in every city in the state.

Caught at the Crossing.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 4.—Luther L. Perdieu, aged fifty, a prominent real estate and insurance agent of this city, was run over by a fast Lake Erie & Western passenger train at the Plum street grade crossing, and injured so seriously that he died.

ROOSEVELT HAD FINE TIME OF IT

The Colonel Basked In Smiles of Miners.

GREETED AS THE BEST EVER

Second Day's Triumphant Tour of the Anthracite Region Gave the Colonel a Further Opportunity to Look Into Homes of Miners and Receive the Affectionate Greeting of All With Whom He Came in Contact.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 4.—The contributing editor continued his mission of uplift among the mining classes of the Wyoming valley yesterday. He spent the day whirling along through several little towns, where he was received with a great show of enthusiasm. At Kingston they hailed Theodore Roosevelt as the next president of the United States. Flags fluttered in the breeze. Women trotted out their broods of children and pointed with pride to the man who decried race suicide. The grimy miners of various races cheered the colonel until they got tired of cheering. In many respects it was as grand a day as the day before in the Lackawanna valley.

Mr. Roosevelt repeated that he does not want the impression to be spread that he is investigating labor conditions in these parts. He said that he simply wants to look over the social side. He declared that there is no significance in the fact that John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers, accompanied him on his second journey. His intimacy with the Catholic clergy whom he met at every turn of the road is merely the result of old friendship and regard for them. The Rev. Father J. J. Curran, his host, has been a big figure in the mine troubles up here.

The news of the coming of Roosevelt was carried through the valley with startling rapidity. As the big car sped into Pittston, T. R. was greeted by miners who straggled along the sidewalks, and by their wives, who had the kiddies all dotted up for the occasion. The colonel inspected the Roosevelt school and said that it is all right. A Mrs. E. J. Gibbons, tipping the beam at 275 pounds, trotted out her family just as the great man was about to depart. She insisted upon introducing all the little Gibbonses and remarked to her eldest daughter: "Ain't he handsome, Minnie?" The colonel blushed in righteous embarrassment, but he told Mrs. Gibbons that she was immense.

All through the town of Pittston the crowds gathered and the children were played up for all they were worth. The folks of the country thought the greatest theory Roosevelt ever expounded was the anti-race suicide theory. In the Italian colony the colonel lingered for some time, caressing the children, chatting with mothers, and rapidly going through several homes that he wanted to gather color from. With Rose Conti, a five-year-old "little mother" of the type so common in the east side of New York, the colonel spoke in Italian. The colonel is not any too proficient in that tongue, but he managed to make himself understood and made a hit with the Italians who saw the tableau.

The party returned to the home of Father Curran for luncheon. About forty of the Catholic clergy were present. The colonel made a speech and so did John Mitchell. Then they all returned to Kingston, where they received a dynamite salute and a rousing reception, consisting mostly of cheers and other noises. At Avondale the colonel entered the home of Owen Mathews. Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin, Mathews's mother, exhibited twelve kids of the family and then showed to T. R. a neat volume entitled "Life of Theodore Roosevelt, the Intellectual Giant."

Someone with a great deal of temerity asked the colonel if he was the author, but the colonel roared that he was not. Whoever wrote that book must be ashamed of it, because he did not have the nerve to sign his name as regular authors do. The "Life of Theodore Roosevelt, Intellectual Giant" is the family bible of the Mathews and McLaughlins. The call was interrupted by the intrusion of Mrs. George Gart and her family of seventeen. "And with the help of God," she said, "I'll have three more and make it a round twenty."

"By George, but wasn't that fine?" Mr. Roosevelt's voice reached the ears of an aged woman sick abed. She rose, dressed and limped toward the colonel's auto as he was going away. Mr. Roosevelt hastened to meet her. He cheered the old lady up and she went back to bed prepared for the worst so long as she had looked on the great man. Late last night the colonel flew down the mountain side, reaching the station in time to catch the midnight train for New York.

Held on Charges of Fraud.

New York, Aug. 4.—The federal grand jury has indicted seven officers and directors of the United Wireless Telegraph company. There were two indictments, one for conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses, and one for a scheme to defraud which contained three counts. The indicted men pleaded not guilty and were placed under bond for trial.

OHIO'S CAPITAL IS GROWING QUIETER

Large Part of the State Guard Leaves Today.

Columbus, O., Aug. 4.—Today witnessed the departure of two regiments of the national guard with auxiliary command, Troop A, of Cleveland, from Columbus, leaving three regiments, a cavalry troop, a battery and a hospital and ambulance company here to assist the police in coping with the street car strike situation. For two days there has been no rioting and the division formation of the militia was dispensed with. This necessitated the departure of Senator Dick, who has been here under the title of Major General Dick, in chief command.

Governor Harmon's attempt to settle the strike has failed. He called upon the Columbus Railway and Light company and the union to accept as final the decision of the state arbitration board, but both refused.

FAVORS PROHIBITION

Governor Campbell Sends Drastic Message to Texas Legislature.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 4.—Governor Campbell sent a message to the legislature recommending the enactment of a radical anti-saloon law, which if put into effect will give state-wide prohibition. Bills were introduced in the house and senate covering the governor's recommendations. One of them prohibits the sale of liquor within ten miles of a public school building or other state educational institution, and another prohibits the sale of liquor in less than one-quart packages and that it shall not be drunk on the premises where sold. A majority of the house and senate favor the pending measures.

Two hundred fishermen were drowned by the capsizing of their boats during a typhoon on the River Amur.

AFTER ELEVEN YEARS' BOOSTING

New Castle Now Proud of Long List of Big Substantial Factories.

BICYCLE PLANT WAS FIRST

Half Score Years Ago "Rose City" Was Not on the Industrial Map.

Eleven years ago New Castle boasted of having four factories, says the New Castle Courier. They were the Speeder bicycle factory, the Maxim handle factory and the Davis bentwood factory, the Jennings furniture factory, the Martin flour mill and the Jennings hoop mill.

In 1899, New Castle took its first step forward in the location of the Safety Shredder factory. It was the largest industry in the city and employed a large number of men. That was New Castle's first awakening.

Things were dormant for a year or two and then the progressive spirit got a hold on everyone. From that time up until the present, New Castle has secured everything she has gone after, even down to a federal building, which will be erected within a year or two.

The following is a complete list of the manufacturing enterprises in the city today, after the start eleven years ago:

- The Maxwell-Briseoe Motor Co. plant.
- The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet factory.
- Krell-French Piano factory.
- Pan-American Bridge factory.
- Indiana Rolling mill.
- Indiana Disc mill.
- Indiana Shovel works.
- National Auto Spring works.
- The Precise Cam works.
- The Pitless Scales factory.
- The New Castle foundry.
- The Safety Shredder plant.
- The Canning factory.
- The New Castle Casket factory.
- The Tuxedo Cigar factory.
- The Taylor & Nicholson Pop factory.
- Artificial Ice factory.
- Wallace Ice Cream factory.
- Jersey Ice Cream factory.
- Light, Heat and Power Co.—gas electricity and hot-water heat.
- Universal Motor Co. plant.
- Four big greenhouse plants covering several acres.

cause he is earnest and untiring in the doing of good to those around him, and because he is ever ready to sacrifice his own ease and interest and to do his duty fully to his church, to his God, to his fellowmen.

W. A. Cochrane of the Delevan Lake Assembly says of him: The Rev. Father Cleary of Minneapolis has appeared upon the platform of the Delevan Lake Assembly on two different occasions. First on Thursday evening, August 3, when he delivered his grand and inspiring lecture on "The Great Passion Play" and again on the afternoon of August 4th, when his theme was "Religion and Country; Church and State." Father Cleary, in my judgment, has no superior upon the modern platform. He is a man of fine physique and has a rich, full voice. His manner is earnest, his words most eloquent and patriotic, and he captivates and pleases all. We have had no one upon our platform since the organization of our assembly who has given more satisfaction, and I most heartily commend him as a ripe scholar, a brilliant orator, a Christian gentleman, and a patriotic American.

TRIED OUT THE OLD FIRE ENGINE

It Was the First Time That it Had Pumped Water in Thirty Years.

RETAINED FOR EMERGENCIES

For the first time in thirty years the small fire engine pumped water out of the city's fire wells yesterday afternoon. Stewart Beale acted as chief engineer and was successful in getting the engine to work in its old style. On Tuesday afternoon the engine failed to work on account of some faults in its mechanism, which were easily repaired. The city keeps both the larger and the smaller one to be used in case of emergency. For this reason the fire department thought it well to test the smaller and the older engine out in a thorough manner.

TRACTION VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

Theory That George Carlton, Local Printer, Was Killed by Car, Has Been Disproved.

HIS WHEREABOUTS UNKNOWN

The body of the man who was hit and instantly killed by a west-bound Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company car on the Shelbyville division near Acton Monday, was identified as Joseph Roster of Jeffersonville, Ind., in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon. The body was recognized as that of Roster, by Frank Lynch of Indianapolis, who received a telegram from the dead man's brother, asking that he identify him.

Now that the theory that George Carlton, journeyman printer, was killed by an I. & C. car, has been sent skyward, friends of the missing man are gravely concerned as to his whereabouts. He has been mysteriously missing from his boarding house since Sunday night. He notified no one of his intended departure, not even his employer. If he had taken his clothes with him, his friends here would think nothing of the occurrence as it would be nothing uncommon for him to leave without notice. As it is, it is feared that Carlton has wandered away.

ADMITS WILL FOR PROBATE

George Laird Bequeaths Most of His Estate to Sister.

The will of George Albert Laird, who died Monday, was admitted for probate in the clerk's office this afternoon. The largest part of his estate, a 160 acre farm, one mile from Hinton, Oklahoma, was left to his sister, Mrs. Ida May Ray. He made several small bequests to other relatives and left the remainder of his personal property to Mrs. Ray.

Today was pension day in the clerk's office and about one hundred and fifty vouchers were certified to during the day.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

HAS "FREE SILVER" NAME.

(Shelbyville Democrat.)
Strange methods have often been used by proud parents in selecting a name for the latest addition to the family, but never any more unusual than that adopted by John T. Roe, a prominent Hendricks township Democrat in naming a daughter born in 1896. The child came during the warmest part of the presidential campaign being conducted by William Jennings Bryan. Since it could not be christened "William J.," Mr. Roe thought for some time before he finally hit upon a suitable name. At last he hit upon the idea of constructing a name for the little daughter out of the letters contained in the words, "free silver." This plan resulted in the naming of the child "Virfisel," a name which contains all of the letters represented in the two words. Miss Virfisel Roe is now one of the brightest and sweetest girls in the county and would not trade her "free silver" name for a dozen of the ordinary kind.
